Shame! Shame! Shame!

How could such an idea even be considered.

Isn't there enough pollution in the world already? Why for the sake of commerce (i.e. greed) should we recycle radioactive waste and make it into our everyday products. We don't know what is low level waste and how it will effect the human system if we were in contact with it daily or often.

No — please stop the use of radioactive waste in consumer products before it starts — That is merely common sense!

Sincerely
Carmen Pappas
