Attention: Rulemaking and Adjudications Staff
Nuclear Regulatory Commission

To Whom it May Concern:

I am writing this letter in protest of the NRC's utilization of biased studies to justify the reuse of potentially radioactive substances for everyday use.

Any decision made on this issue should be made with full, unbiased knowledge and not due to the report of one research group, namely, the government sponsored Science Applications International Corporation (SAIC). The use of unconclusive evidence when dealing with nuclear waste constitutes a gross injustice to unknowing persons, who may become contaminated with radiation themselves. These actions are both immatur and insane.

I urge the NRC to reevaluate the research done by

Template = SECY-067

SECY-02

SAIC and utilize other, outside research when making any decisions dealing with the release of radioactive and nuclear waste into public hands. These wastes must continue to be regulated in order to protect public health, no matter what the cost to the energy industry may be.

Sincerely
