Dear Mr. Park:

As you know, the National Environmental Protection Act requires that you conduct individual environmental impact statements for each proposed in situ uranium mine.

As a tax-paying, law-abiding American citizen, I hope and pray that you will also abide by our nation's laws.

Will you require individual environmental impact statements for the proposed uranium mines in Wyoming, New Mexico, Nebraska, and South Dakota? Do you agree with me that the American citizens in these states deserve your adherence to the law?

Sincerely,

Tina M. Arnold
