My husband and I have concerns about the LES opening a facility in our area because:

1. If it is all that great an economic boost why was it declined in Tennessee and Louisiana? Can they not benefit from the same reasons we are told it is good for us.
2. Since we have waste from Ohio, Kentucky that is still sitting around and have no means of disposal. Why should we add to the problem?
3. Is this not harmful to air, soil, and water along with the animals in the area that are used for food? We eat some of these animals.
4. Why continue to build a plant with no effective way to dispose or make the waste safe?
5. The idea that peoples from other countries are the main ones behind this also makes me nervous opening up our country for controversy and risk for terror attacks because of the danger of the nuclear reactions if exposed to the wrong kind of things.
6. We feel that our state is a great state and it is said to be the land of Enchantment. We have been here a long time and feel that this is going to
