Ram,

I just received an e-mail from John Richards. He is available today for a call, but not tomorrow. Is there any way we can set it up for today? Sorry for the change. I didn't think he was available. Please send me an e-mail as soon as practical this morning and I'll let John know. I'll be in a meeting all day today, so please send an e-mail instead of calling. I'll leave the meeting when I get it.

Work for the staff. I will let the concerned staff know. We will regroup next week.

Hi Ram,

I have just discovered that John Richards is out of the office this week. Since he is one of the key players in this discussion, I'd like to postpone the call until next when he is back. Will that work for you? If so, what are the good days for you.

Thanks,
