NRC to Hold Two Workshops; Registration Available Online

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission's Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research will host two workshops on reactor topics in November and December.

On November 28-29, the NRC, the Department of Energy's Office of Nuclear Energy, and the Idaho National Laboratory will host a hybrid workshop on structural health management for nuclear power plants. The workshop will be held at NRC headquarters in the Two White Flint North Auditorium, 11555 Rockville Pike, Rockville, Maryland, and online via Teams. Registration is free, but attendees must register online.

On December 5-6, the NRC will host a virtual workshop on the integration and implementation of security, safety, and safeguards in advanced reactors, microreactors, and advanced fuel fabrication facilities in both design and operations. Attendees must register by November 17.
