SERVED MAR - 6 2000

Dear Mr. Basnight,

Thanks so much for your response to my concern about preserving the natural beauty and resources of North Carolina. As part of my concern to take care of our land, water, and people, I'm very concerned that CP & L is planning to double its storage of spent nuclear fuel at the Shearon Harris plant near the Cape Fear River Basin, and only a few miles by air from Jordan Lake and other rivers that feed into the Cape Fear. Nuclear pollution is by far our worst danger as we enter the 21st century. It is so dangerous, lasts so long, affects our health and welfare for so many thousands of years.

Whatever you can do to help we here in the Triangle area so much appreciate. Somehow we must think toward the long range health and welfare of our land and people, not just toward the short term goals of corporate wealth and profit.

You no doubt know that the Triangle area now has some of the worst air in the country (last summer we had many red and orange alert days, elderly and children were told to stay inside), about half from coal-burning factories and about half from automobile traffic. We must work together to keep our state a good place to live. I know that we have attracted industries and companies here because North Carolina is such a nice place to live. But it is losing that quickly, sadly.

Keep up the good work and let's keep North Carolina beautiful and our people healthy.

Sincerely,

Judy Hogan

>Dear Mrs. Judy Hogan:

>Thank you for contacting me regarding the need to preserve more open space >in North Carolina. I appreciate your interest in this important issue.

>I agree with you that preserving open space is critical to our efforts to >protect our state's precious natural resources. That is why I sponsored >legislation to create North Carolina's Clean Water Management Trust Fund.

>Since it was started in 1996, the Trust Fund has awarded more than $162 >million in grants to preserve an estimated 32,000 acres of wetlands and >watershed, riparian areas and habitat for rare and endangered plants and >animals.

>Last year, North Carolina used the Trust Fund to match more than $220 >million in federal funds to preserve open space and protect more than 1,000 >miles of North Carolina - a 15-year effort and the single largest >environmental initiative in North Carolina history.

>As you may know, the General Assembly will soon begin its work on the >2000-2001 state budget. Despite an unusually tight budget, I assure you that

>I will do everything I can to maintain and expand funding for the Clean >Water Management Trust Fund.

>Thank you again for contacting me. Please let me know if I can provide you >with any additional information or if I can be of any assistance to you.

>Sincerely,
