BROADCASTING COMMISSION MEETINGS ON THE

The Commission has approved the staff's proposal to pilot test media streaming technology at the NRC and evaluate its effectiveness during the first six months of the pilot period, as described in COMSECY-00-0015. Before initiating the pilot test, the staff should first present the Commission with its evaluation criteria for the pilot program, including the cost thresholds for continuing this project. In evaluating the effectiveness of the pilot, the staff should pay close attention to any cost savings potential related to technology improvements or economies of scale.
