I am joining with other citizens to urge you not to extend the operating life of reactors in the United States, by 20 years or by any years. (I understand that you plan to do this for 85% of current reactors.) Your potential decision is undemocratic, since public hearings have not been held in the communities near reactor sites that are directly affected by your decisions.

You should be working to foster alternative safe and clean sources of energy, not to extend reactors beyond their lifetimes, when the danger of accidents and proliferation are the highest. Please do your duty as a public watchdog agency and help protect the lives and health of our population.

Sincerely yours,

Phyllis Olin
