Hello there,

I'm just a concerned citizen. HAS THE WORLD GONE POSITIVELY CRAZY?

How can this be even a consideration? Have we not learned from the asbestos fiasco? Oops, it's killing people.

I will not even think of importing soil onto the land that I am custodian to thanks to programs like these! I realize it is out of my control the kinds of soil that the food that I consume are being grown in and on. More's the pity.

Never thought I'd be poisoned by my own government but then, heck, I keep hearing about these insane programs and the truth is, these kinds of programs have been perpetrated on us poor lower level citizens for decades now.

Living like there is no concern for our progeny is no way to live. How awful. Don't these people have families? Or a conscience?

I would think there are better, safer ways to make money. Or has that become the bottom line for us?

Good luck to us all.
