To whom it may concern,

After reading the NRC draft report outlining the possible reuse of radioactive soils found online at <http://www.nrc.gov/NRC/NUREGS/SR1725/sr1725.pdf>, I beg you to reconsider this proposal as it poses a largely unknown and possibly catastrophic risk to lives of all Americans.

Working in the environmental remediation field, one learns that misclassifications occasionally occur and the results of misclassifying these soils may contaminate farmland and athletic fields creating unknown health hazards.

Please rethink this proposal and instead place money that you were funding into this project to new ways to attempt treatment of this waste that a thoughtless technology has created.

Sincerely,
Michael Krugman
