

From: Tanya Eaton
To: Christopher Boyd, Jason Schaperow, K.C. Leu, Na...
Date: Mon, Jan 10, 2000 2:49 PM
Subject: Fwd: Re: RES Concurrence on Decommissioning Study

Good afternoon,

In accordance with the attached email, NRR plans to provide the, "Draft Technical Study of Spent Fuel Pool Accidents for Decommissioning Plants" package to RES for concurrence.

In order to receive early input into the draft before RES concurs at the office level, the RES reviewers at the working level, who provided input in the areas of PRA, human factors, thermal hydraulics, fire protection, and the seismic area, will receive a copy of the draft going out for public comment to review (1) the use and characterization" of their input; and 2) to provide any additional comments. You should expect to receive the package this week.

Please review the attached email. If there are any questions, please contact George Hubbard or Tanya Eaton. Also, if I have neglected to send this email to any individuals in RES who have contributed to the draft, please contact me ASAP.

Thanks,

Tanya Eaton, NRR/DSSA/SPLB
415-3610

CC: Ashok Thadani, Charles Tinkler, Farouk Eltawila,...

M/S

From: George Hubbard
To: TME
Date: Mon, Jan 10, 2000 1:56 PM
Subject: Fwd: Re: RES Concurrence on Decommissioning Study

From: Samuel Collins
To: Brian Sheron, Gary Holahan
Date: Thu, Jan 6, 2000 7:06 PM
Subject: Re: RES Concurrence on Decommissioning Study

This approach is acceptable, as long as it does not constitute an overall "independent review" of the study. Thanks, Sam

>>> Gary Holahan 01/06 8:22 AM >>>
Brian,

I left the SPLB/SPSB team on Decommissioning (Technical Working Group...TWG) with instructions to: 1) include RES staff members in the development of the final draft of the study (to address the issue of "use and characterization" of their input); and 2) to put RES on concurrence for their input with an invitation to provide any additional comments (and to give them about 3 days for concurrence/comment...around 1/21-1/26). If you different/additional input after your meeting with Frank M., please let me know.

Gary

CC: Ashok Thadani, George Hubbard, John Hannon, Mar...