Dear Dr. Blejwas:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the efforts you and your colleagues from the other national laboratories made in preparing "Future Direction for NRC Research, DOE National Laboratory Recommendations, April 2001". Please convey our appreciation to John Guth and all who worked on the report. It is clear significant effort was involved, and it is greatly appreciated.

We are examining your recommendations with interest. Your recommendations are generally consistent with our own thinking and represent a logical extension of the programs now in place as we consider a changing regulatory environment. In particular, we appreciate your detailed suggestions both in the Research Themes and the body of the report, as well as in the individual laboratory suggestions. We will give them careful consideration as we proceed.

Sincerely,

/RA/
