TO: NRC Employees
SUBJECT: CHILD CARE TUITION ASSISTANCE

Under current legislation, Federal agencies have an option to use a portion of their appropriated funds to assist their lower income employees with the costs of child care (Public Law 106-58, Section 643, and Public Law 106-554, effective October 1, 2000). Under the law, Federal agencies may elect to use funds appropriated for salaries and expenses to help defray some of the costs incurred by their lower income employees to provide child care for children age 13 and younger. The child care must be provided in a licensed facility (e.g., a licensed child care center, a child care home licensed by the appropriate local jurisdiction, a licensed after-school care program). Payments from an agency to cover a share of child care expenses must be made directly to the appropriate child care facility. This law is currently in effect through September 30, 2001. Extension beyond FY 2001 is uncertain at this time.

NRC is implementing a program to provide tuition assistance to its lower income employees on a sliding scale based on total family income (as reflected in the employee's most recent Federal income tax forms) and child care costs. NRC's program will be administered by an outside organization.

Employees who wish to receive more information about this program, and about how to apply for tuition assistance, should call Carolyn Swanson (301-415-7530) or Jude Himmelberg (301-415-6974) for more information.
