See attached for Paul Blanch's thoughts.

I also talked to David Stewart-Smith of the State of Oregon. His thoughts:

- Good to have a state agency involved with the details. Provides the public with a local point of contact.
- We need to be open-minded regarding new technology in decommissioning. Don't have all the answers and should not preclude new ideas that fall outside existing regs. Example: Shipment of Trojan Rx vessel.

He is still working on his presentation.
