Wayne, I would like you to take the lead on the inspection program implications of the IP2 event on NRC response ... two things come to mind (1) if Con Ed had a sophisticated CCDP of white initially, it would fall outside the risk guidance for an AIT (2) delta CDF can be significantly higher than CCDP ... how do we ensure enough NRC review to root out the performance issue if the CCDP does not initially drive us there ... I am particularly concerned that if the ECT inspection did not put them into category C3, we would not have had the leverage to inspect and gather information to the level of detail needed. This example is important because of Con Ed's views which seem to be swayed by economics. Unrelated, try to set up the next branch meeting in early Sept. Dave.
