Wayne,

I'll have to check with Jack. I could send you my comments but Jack may have more comments or may not agree with some of my proposed rewordings.

Regarding the TS violation, I thought that the input from Brent Clayton answered the question from a policy perspective. If that is not the case, tell me what you need and help me understand who the audience is.

Hi Ted so where do you all stand - I guess we can talk in the morning.

Also could you please put together an answer to why we are not citing the TS for > 40-percent TW.
