

FY02 RFPA NUMBER ASSIGNMENTS

RFPA Numbers are composed of three (3) elements. The first element is a two/three (2/3) letter office code, e.g., NMS if the requirement originated within an organizational element of the Office of Nuclear Material Safety and Safeguards (three digits are used in the DCPM Contract Tracking System, CTS). The second element is the last two (2) digits of the fiscal year (02) in which the office initiated the request for a contract. The third element is a three (3) digit number taken from a block of numbers assigned to each NRC program office. Numbers less than 100 will use leading zeros to build a three digit number, e.g., the number 7 would be 007. A RFPA number does not change for subsequent funding actions (even if different fiscal year monies are involved) or for modifications to the contract. Thus a RFPA submitted by a program office to request a modification of a contract will cite the original RFPA number which led to the award to that contract. One note - the block of numbers assigned to an office will increase or decrease from year to year depending upon the level of contracting activity in the program office. Each NRC program office, its code, and the block of numbers assigned to each program office for FY02 is listed below.
