Dear Glyn

With reference to your enquiry regarding robust tests such as drop tests carried out by the South African Defence Force.

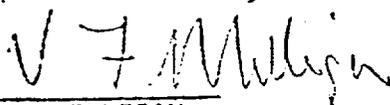

I am unable to supply documentary proof of the tests which were carried out in October 1980. However, I was present during some of the tests which included driving a 3 ton truck over the sight, dropping it repeatedly from a height of 2 metres onto concrete on a rifle and on its own, and striking the end of the dome with a 2 pound hammer.

The sight has been approved by the S.A.D.F. for operational use and must therefore have passed the stringent strength and quality conditions demanded by the Armament Corporation of South Africa. The criteria of which is based on that required in the United States and the United Kingdom.

I am sorry I cannot give you details of the results of tests carried out by specific units of the S.A.D.F., to do so would be a breach of security, but I can say that all the results have been favourable.

I hope this is of some use to you.

Yours sincerely

V.F. MILLIGAN
