H. A. Sepp

Dear Mr. Quay:

Reference 1 provided notification of a reorganization affecting the organizational structure identified in Figure 1 of the Westinghouse Quality Management System, Revision 4. Figure 1 describes the Westinghouse organizations that meet QMS commitments.

The Westinghouse Electric Company organizational structure identified in Reference 1 has been further revised to reflect its core businesses. None of these organizational changes will reduce or change the commitments of the Westinghouse Quality Management System (QMS).

The operational organizations in the new structure include the prior operational organizations. Nuclear Services and Nuclear Services Europe have been combined, and Nuclear Systems and Projects has been renamed as Nuclear Plant Projects. The attached figure illustrates the current Westinghouse organizations that meet the QMS commitments.

If there are any questions, please contact John Papai at (412) 374-2434.

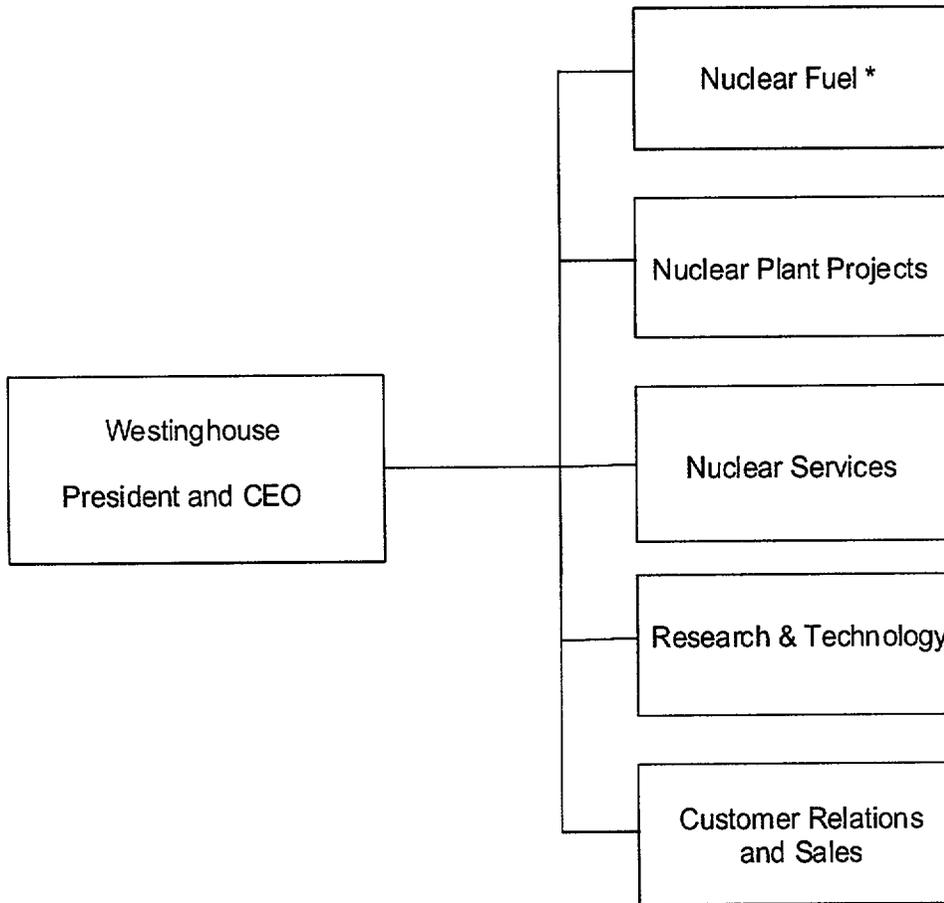

Very truly yours,
