SITE CRITERIA

On this date Mr. Jim Smith of General Electric, San Jose, California, called to inquire about the status of the proposed site criteria and what action is being taken with regard to the comments furnished by industry on the proposed 10 CFR 100 which was published in the Federal Register last spring.

I advised Mr. Smith that a revision of the proposed 10 CFR 100 is presently under preparation taking into due consideration all comments which were received. In response to his question regarding how soon the revised criteria would be published in the Federal Register I replied that I didn't know and that I couldn't even predict when this might occur.
