Re: Transmittal of Additional Proprietary Information to Resolve a Discovery Dispute
NRC Docket No. 070-03098-ML

DCS is voluntarily providing the attached information to avoid a discovery dispute regarding DCS' responses to GANE and BREDL's first set of interrogatories regarding GANE Contentions 1 and 2, and in accordance with the letter from GANE dated July 11, 2002. Accordingly, please find the attached slides prepared by DCS relating to material control and accounting (MC&A) and physical security that were presented to the NRC Staff during meetings held on December 10, 1999, January 4-5, 2001, and March 8, 2001. For your reference, we have included the NRC notices which announced the meetings to the public as cover letters to each packet of slides. These notices indicate that the meetings or portions of the meetings that these slides were presented to the NRC were closed to the public due to the nature of the discussion.

Please note that these presentations were made, in some cases, more than two years ago. Accordingly, the information contained in the slides may not be up-to-date. Also, as we discussed with Glenn and Diane on July 11, 2002, DCS is not providing slides 11, 12, and 13 from the "Security" presentation made during the December 10, 1999 meeting because these three slides may contain classified information.

Finally, the attached slides contain proprietary information and must be maintained in confidence in accordance with your executed Non-Disclosure Affidavits and the Licensing Board's June 29, 2001 Protective Order.

Sincerely,

Alex S. Polonsky
