Dear Staff:

Since I live about 15 miles from the route proposed for shipping nuclear waste across the country, I'm concerned about the proposal to weaken radioactive transport regulations. Don't do it! These regulations should be strengthened, not weakened. The way people drive around here, an accidental encounter with a nuclear waste truck is bound to happen sooner or later. The NRC and the DOT should take every precaution to prevent such accidents.

Sincerely,

Emily B. Calhoun
