Dear Mr. Mueller:

I am responding to your letter to Chairman Richard A. Meserve, dated November 19, 2002.

Your letter requested that, before revising current security requirements, the Commission convene a safeguards level meeting with all Commissioners and industry representatives to discuss relevant concerns. The Commission and the NRC staff are aware of the keen interest of the nuclear industry's executives in the steps the NRC will take in revising its security regulations and guidance in the coming years. In the process, the NRC must strive to maintain a balance between the public's need for information in this important area and the need to protect the information that is vital to protection of the nuclear facilities.

In consideration of the comprehensive re-evaluation of safeguards programs underway at this time, the Commission plans to meet with industry executives in January 2003. The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss security issues including planned revisions to the design basis threats, ongoing and long-term implementation of security measures, and the relative risk of nuclear facilities as part of the nation's critical infrastructure. I trust this responds to your request.

Sincerely,
