The USNRC has always been a progressive organization. So it makes perfect sense that we would implement a highly progressive system that makes it easier than ever for you to learn about our career opportunities, and to apply instantly to our vacancies. And that's just the beginning. NRCareers offers many other online and automated features.

It's the ideal choice for both external job candidates and employees who wish to be part of a growing future at the USNRC.

The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) fills a vital role in today's world, performing the mission of regulating the civilian use of nuclear power and materials with the ultimate goal of protecting the health and safety of our nation, its people, and our environment.

U.S. citizenship is required.
An equal opportunity employer.

The NRC provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities where appropriate. If you need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please notify the Disability Program Coordinator at 301-415-7111 (TDD 301-415-2100). Determination on requests for reasonable accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

The NRC is a "zero-tolerance" agency with regard to illegal drug usage.

Please note: executive agencies are prohibited from accepting or considering applicants for competitive appointments or positions based on political recommendations from members of Congress, congressional employees, elected state or local government officials, and political party officials. Such officials may only supply statements regarding the character and residence of the applicant.

What is NRCareers?

NRCareers is a web-based vacancy announcement and job application system that enables you to view job vacancies at the NRC and easily apply online. NRCareers is faster, easier, and more convenient than the traditional employment and response method. Imagine, instead of preparing multiple copies of your application package and rushing to ensure its delivery before the deadline, you'll be able to prepare your entire application package online. And because NRCareers relies on e-mail to keep you up-to-date on the status of your application, we'll be able to respond to you in a more timely fashion.

How do I get connected?

All you need is a computer with web access. You can connect 7 days a week, 24 hours a day from the privacy of your home, from the local library – virtually anywhere. It takes no time at all to connect to NRCareers. Just point your browser and you're there. To enter your resume you can either type it directly in to NRCareers or you can copy and paste it from any word processing or resume program.

Let NRCareers do even more work for you.

NRCareers has many features for you. For instance, once you enter your resume in the system, it will be stored electronically, available to you whenever you want to apply to a new vacancy. You can also elect to have NRCareers notify you automatically, via e-mail, when new vacancies occur. What's more, you can elect to be notified of all vacancies, or just those within a specific occupation. Even though this convenient feature is available, you can still view any and all NRC job openings at any time simply by logging on to NRCareers.

You'll be notified.

When you apply to a NRC job announcement using NRCareers, you will receive real-time acknowledgement notifying you that your application has been received. In addition, NRCareers enables us to respond more quickly and personally to you, via e-mail, regarding the status of your application during the hiring process.

It's faster, easier, and more convenient than the traditional employment and response method.

So now you know....

The way to search for NRC jobs, create and submit your resume, and apply to NRC job vacancies is to use NRCareers.
