I still have questions on Pebble Bed. Specifically, is Marty aware of the revised info? Does he agree with the level and approach? Even before asking the MV questions, I should ask if the LT even agrees that the resource request is built on a consistent basis across Divisions? We will need to document whatever the assumptions are. Does the LT endorse it?

Also the reference to "planning wedge" confuses me. It makes it sound like folks don't think this will be part of our official budget request. I've got a call into Schum to confirm my understanding that we do include whatever our Pebble Bed resources are into the Schedule 5A, CARDS resource markup, and whatever other schedules that may relate and that it is part of our official budget request. Further I will confirm with her my previous understanding that we have to submit the specific assumptions that our resource estimate is based on if they differ from the current PRC approved assumption in the reactor arena.

See attached. Item 1 appears to take care of Pebble Bed issue, unless you see a problem. Need your reaction to Item2. Based on my review of BP/IT with Elise, I would agree with Mike.
