PBMR Schedule Revision

Based on the Nov 21, 2001 letter from Exelon to the NRC regarding the projected availability of PBMR technical information needed to conduct the pre-application review (see also attached time line from Exelon), RES now tentatively expects that the PBMR pre-application review will likely continue well into CY 2003. The revised milestone dates for the (two) SECY papers on PBMR technical issues and the PBMR Commission policy issues will be discussed with Exelon this week. These discussions are intended to firm-up the revised schedule for both the pre-application review and these SECY papers in a way which meets Exelon's decision-making needs.

RES plans to inform the Commission of the current status of the pre-application review, including the revised schedule in an interim Commission paper. This interim status paper is currently being written (Don Carlson lead) and is expected to be completed by January 2002.
