Attached are the comments of the NRR Info review team, Dick Rosano may provide comments separately....most are editorial. A couple points:

- changing from criteria for release to criteria for withholding seems more accurate and avoids the connotation that our default is to withhold
- changing the 3rd bullet on availability from after date of this memo to in the future avoids perception that our actions are going to make any type of step change. This is also reflected by a proposed sentence on the next page.."pending the development....will continue to use interim approaches currently in place."
- couple places where added emphasis on development of agency and office-level guidance
