my point is - what is Mr. Gudziel basing his discussion on? Does he have different info that the RCS engineer? Not sure if all 4 really are leaking or known to be leaking until we look into it. I will have to try to find the page where they discussed at the public meetng.

I don't have the transcript here, but I do know that we have an allegation that says that all four were leaking and it comes from the RCS systems engineer, who should know.

did the licensee say in the trasnrip t that all 4 were leaking? Not sure I get Mr. Gurdziels' point

I found one RAM item which I entered regarding a combination of 2/3 e.g., if they have 4 pumps and they only fix 2 of the gaskets, doesn't that leave 2 to leak that they can use as the excuse to say is the source of primary coolant leakage. Put on RAM as E-19.

Anything for RAM?
