

24 Conclusions

The staff will provide its conclusions on the review of the AP1000 standard design in the final SER. The financial qualifications of an applicant seeking to construct and operate a reactor in accordance with any design certification that might be issued for the AP1000 design and the indemnity requirements of 10 CFR Part 140 will be addressed during the plant-specific licensing process for an application that references the design.