Subject: Westinghouse Electric Company Reorganization

Reference: 1. Westinghouse Quality Management System (QMS), Revision 5

Dear Mr. Ruland:

Figure 1 of the Westinghouse Quality Management System, Revision 5, describes the Westinghouse organizations that meet QMS commitments.

This Westinghouse Electric Company organizational structure has been revised to reflect its core businesses. None of these organizational changes will reduce or change the commitments of the Westinghouse Quality Management System (QMS).

Effective April 1, 2003, certain product lines were transferred from the Nuclear Plant Projects operational organization to the Nuclear Services operational organization. Consequently, the name of the Nuclear Plant Projects (Figure 1) organization was changed to Nuclear Power Plants to reflect its focus.

If there are any questions, please contact John Papai at (412) 374-2434.

Very truly yours,
