GEORGIANS AGAINST NUCLEAR ENERGY'S ERRATUM TO BRIEF IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER AND REQUEST TO QUASH DEPOSITION OF DR. LELAND TIMOTHY LONG

Georgians Against Nuclear Energy ("GANE") submits the following erratum to its Brief in Support of Motion for Protective Order and Request to Quash Deposition of Dr. Leland Timothy Long (June 30, 2003). In Section III.B, at page 12, on the 5th line, the brief states: "Therefore, GANE has elected not to take the depositions of DCS's witnesses." Following that sentence, please insert the following statement: "While GANE may reconsider that decision if its financial circumstances should change significantly before the close of discovery, such a change in circumstances is unlikely."

This erratum responds to a concern expressed verbally by counsel for Duke Cogema Stone & Webster that GANE's brief may have given the erroneous impression that GANE's decision against deposing DCS's witnesses was not subject to change under any circumstances whatsoever. With this erratum, GANE seeks to correct any such misimpression.

GANE's decision not to take depositions of DCS's witnesses was based on GANE's judgment regarding the overall cost-effectiveness of deposing DCS's witnesses, and a reasonable assessment of GANE's current and likely future financial circumstances. It seems unlikely that GANE's financial circumstances will change significantly before the close of discovery. In the unexpected event that GANE's financial circumstances do change significantly, GANE wishes to clarify that it may re-evaluate its decision not to depose DCS's witnesses. GANE does not believe, however, that this clarification changes the fundamental point of its argument in Section III.B, that under current and reasonably foreseeable future circumstances, it would be unfair to make GANE pay for the deposition of Dr. Long.

Respectfully submitted,

Diane Curran
