United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission August 5, 2003
Division of Administrative Services

Gentlemen:

What is wrong with you people? To merely consider re-licensing plants for another 20 years is not science. It is technological prostitution.

Deterioration of material integrity under the onslaught of neutron bombardment and heat has already degraded the useful life of nuclear reactors.

You people should know that more than anyone else!

The fact that you ignore such an elementary fact is criminal negligence.

Small wonder there is a draft letter now being circulated which calls for a vote of no confidence in the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

The letter cites chapter and verse a long list of documented betrayals of the public safety and health by the NRC. Obviously,

NRC stands for Nobody Really Cares.

How do you people live with yourselves?
