OK, FYI, our webpages have already been redesigned.

We'll be working in Dec to bring the web pages back. The critical path for most pages is the re-design of the site and not the content review for sensitive info. We'll be in touch.

Bill,

Our website on topical reports doesn't contain anything that could be used by terrorists. This site lists the process for submitting topicals and lists the topicals under review. Is there anything I can do to get this site put back up?
