SUBJECT: SEMINAR ON THE THEORY AND USE OF THE SWIFT II COMPUTER CODE

I am pleased to announce that a training seminar on the theory and use of the SWIFT II code will be held in Room 106-110 of the Willste Bldg. during the period of August 19-21. The training instructor will be Paul Davis of Sandia National Labs. A product of project A1158, this seminar is intended to familiarize attendees with the general capabilities and theoretical background of the code and its various applications to NRC's high-level review programs. A course outline will be distributed prior to the course along with a reminder of the seminar schedule.

The following three documents will be used as instruction materials for the course and will be disseminated at that time: 1) SWIFT II Self-Teaching Curriculum, 2) Data Input Guide for SWIFT II, and 3) SWIFT II Theory and Implementation. Copies of the first two documents will be available in my office one week prior to the seminar in the event you wish to review training materials prior to attending the course. The Theory and Implementation document is now being finalized under Research Project A1266, and copies will be made available when it arrives.

I have previously estimated that between 15 and 20 staff members and contractors will attend the course. Please confirm by August 6th whether you and/or members of your staff wish to attend so that this estimate can be updated. Give me a call at 74131 if you have any questions about the seminar or need assistance in obtaining advance copies of training materials.
