Subject: Public comments on the rulemaking site on the web

Mindy,

Per our discussions this morning, we have instructed LLNL, our contractor for the rulemaking website, to temporarily disable access to the public comment portion of our rulemaking website and use the following language at the public comment library links. "The NRC is not making public comments available through the rulemaking website at this time."

This action should be completed this afternoon. As agreed, we will inform Fran Goldberg when this action is completed.
