The revised definitions submitted by your letter are not approved. They are not in accordance with the agreement reached in the June 10 telephone conference between NRC and the Center, in that the concepts have been changed. As agreed to in that telephone conversation, the concepts are to be as stated in our definitions telexed to you. However, the Center was to amplify the definitions as necessary.

As regards your concern for coordination of the definitions among the NRC staff, please rest assured that when the NRC CNWRA Program Manager gives direction to the Center, it is consistent with and reflects direction given to the NRC staff.
