Subject: Re: AIF Survey

Our Company Name is Philotechnics Ltd.

As long as disposal and treatment options exist we will not be interested in of an AIF. As stated it is difficult to envision what 10 years down the road might bring but the bulk of out customers opt for thermal processing.

As mentioned most of our customers (small generators at very low levels of radioactive concentration) should over the next ten years have other options available to them other than storage.
