Subject: Please review this website

Bill, the EDO's office has been tasked with responding to a letter from a Congresswoman... see attached. Could you please check out this web site and see if you think it's a problem? I referred it to Carl Konzman but have received no response. The memo is due 1/4....could you expedite please? Thanks.... also, I need to talk to you about posting documents to the web... we are holding off on all posting until we have the final Commission decision on criteria.... more to come.

Dear Senator Collins:

We have reviewed the web site referenced by your constituent, Mr.s Mary Dinan of Cumberland, Maine. Mrs. Dinan believed that the website, www.jeppesen.com published various images and charts of the locations of restricted areas around nuclear sites. The owner of the site, Jeppesen, is a leading supplier of flight information, flight planning services, aviation weather services, maintenance information and aviation training systems.

We have not found any material on the web site that would constitute a security risk to nuclear power plants or other NRC-regulated facilities. As you may know, the agency is undergoing a thorough review of all our security requirements for nuclear facilities, including information that any be inappropriate available to the public via web sites, through documents, or by other means.

We appreciate all citizens' assistance in the identification or information they believe could threaten the security or safety of nuclear facilities.
