Dear Sir or Madame,
I am a relatively new resident of Mississippi, living in Gulfport for 5 years. I am gravely concerned with a nuclear power plant proposal in Port Gibson. This is an area prone to tornados, hurricanes, and flooding. These very acts of nature are a danger to the plant. Other factors that pose a danger are a lack of infrastructure to handle a potential disaster from such a plant, and with concern over terrorist activities a plant located in Port Gibson could be open to attack destroying many industries Mississippi and Louisiana depend upon. An attack or a nuclear accident would destroy the fishing industry, contaminate the Gulf of Mexico, and leave citizens exposed in an area ill-prepared for such events. We would be left in a extremely vulnerable and volital situation. Please reconsider, and deny any attempt to bring a nuclear power plant to Port Gibson, to Mississippi, to the Gulf of Mexico.

Sincerely,
Christine Blair
