Department of Energy
ENERGY FACILITY SITING COUNCIL

ROOM 102, LABOR & INDUSTRIES BUILDING, SALEM, OREGON 97310 PHONE 378-4040

In September, the Oregon Energy Facility Siting Council will observe some of the federal activities to develop a permanent geologic repository for spent nuclear fuel. The Council will tour U.S. Department of Energy facilities at Hanford, Washington on September 12 and at Las Vegas, Nevada on September 13. The Council invites public participation on the tours. However, a limited number of people can be accommodated and therefore priority will be given based on the timing of public requests. Requests should be directed to Don Godard or Bill Dixon of the Oregon Department of Energy by calling the toll-free phone number 1-800-221-8035. Please specify which facility you wish to tour and provide the following information to receive a federal security badge:

- Full name
- Date and place of birth
- Social security number
- Official position
- Organization name and address
- Home address
- Citizenship (if other than U.S., provide passport number, expiration date, date and port of entry; and have passport available for tour).

Requests must be received by August 25.
