Dear Mr. Bell:

Thank you for your participation on the panel of the New Reactors/Advanced Reactors session at the recent 2004 Regulatory Information Conference. Your perspectives on issues related to combined licenses were clearly of much interest to the large audience. Your discussion of industry activities, your insights into the future prospects for new reactor construction and licensing, and your straightforward answers to questions from the audience all contributed to the overall success of our session.

Thank you again for your time and contributions.

Sincerely,
