

RIC 2004

Safety Conscious Work Environment, Session T5

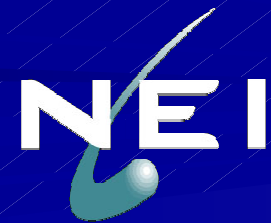

Good Practices
Charles Dugger
VP, Nuclear Operations
Nuclear Energy Institute
March 11, 2004

CONCERNS

...issuing a “best practices” document generated by the agency would, in effect, create a pseudo-regulatory standard that would create false expectations of licensees, NRC inspectors and the public...

ONE RESOLUTION

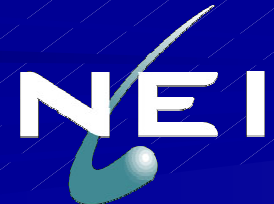

...there is a very reasonable approach that should meet the needs and concerns of the NRC and stakeholders....

NUCLEAR ENERGY INSTITUTE

“Tool Kit” CORE CHARACTERISTICS

- Separate from other Programs/Processes
- Independent from line management
- Administered by sufficiently expert personnel
- Appropriate levels of confidentiality
- Have a defined scope
- Responsible for facilitating feedback
- Be visible and accountable

“Tool Kit” TOOLS

- Good practices
- Lessons learned
- Checklists
- Examples
- Training
- Position descriptions

Management Component

- Open communications
- Credibility
- Sufficient training
- Development of listening skills
- Development of trust
- Recognition of employees
- Feedback

NEI-97-05 Rev 2

This revision will be available on the web site, www.nei.org, for all interested parties in the current draft form.