Thank you, Mary, for your email and concern about nuclear power plant safety. I am passing your email on to the appropriate NRC staff.

Please check the following site to make sure it's not a security risk: "Deadly Nuclear Radiation Hazards USA " is an interactive map with links to detailed State by State information.

JSIR
please

<http://www.prop1.org/prop1/radiated/drh.htm>

Click on "database" then "outside US" and actual coordinates are given for sites offshore, too.

This is an anti-nuclear information site, but could it be misused?

I'm just a layperson trying to get nuclear safety information. This site seemed too detailed. You would know better than me if it is any risk, and also know who to contact if you think it is a risk. So I'm just passing the information on to you.

Thank you,
