Subject: Re: Availability of SECYs to Staff

You're welcome. Hopefully all problems will be resolved shortly.

Thank you for your prompt response.

In fact, when I had problems earlier today, I was not using prior bookmarks, but trying to get what I wanted directly from the old public web site, but nothing worked. Now, doing exactly the same operations, I get to where I want to go. Puzzling!

Thanks again.

Hi Ronald,

The directory structure has changed so any former bookmarks won't work. The requested SECY is located at:

http://www.nrc.gov:201/NRC/COMMISSION/SECYS/secy2000/secy2000-0008/2000-0008scy.html

If you go to the index at: http://www.nrc.gov:201/NRC/COMMISSION/SECYS/index.html for a complete listing. Let me know if you still need assistance. Thanks

How can staff access previously-web posted SECYs?

Although staff has access to the previous public web site, all the SECYs that I wanted to use today come up as "Not Found," apparently the result of the initial post-9/11"sanitizing," before the site was removed from public accesss.

Any help that you can provide will be most appreciated. The specific document that I most want access to is SECY-OO-118, the revised Part 35, and the associated SRM.

Thanks.
