Due to increased security concerns The NRC-State & Tribal Programs web site had temporarily been placed under password access only. The web site has been re-opened except for the 'Radioactive Sealed Sources and Devices' page. That page will remain password protected for now.

If you need information from that page you need to contact John Hickey (JWH1@NRC.GOV)

This morning, I tried to log onto the subject website (<http://www.hsr.d.ornl.gov>). I was asked for a password to gain access, which I had never been asked for in past visits. I would appreciate your letting me know if this site is to be restricted in the future, or, if it isn't, where I can go to get a password for access.

Thank you for your assistance.
