Thank you very much for this information. We are aware of the problem and are working with ISPs to remove cached versions.

Hello NRC:

EX. 6

I noticed that the NRC shut-down the website today to protect public safety. I have located lots of historical info located at <http://www.google.com> in the form of cached pages. If the NRC really needs to make the data unavailable it must have google (& similar sites) withdraw all sensitive cached pages.

Hope this helps in case you didn't know. Regards,

Sidney Darwin Jones
