Attached is an e-mail from the DOE technical project manager with a list of deletions they would like to have removed from the indexes of documents added to the LSN prior to DOE certification.

The list has been forwarded through me, consistent with LSNA Guideline 14. It contains 25,209 accession numbers, and, with each, a cause for the requested deletion from our indexes. This is also consistent with Guideline 14.

I am, in turn, forwarding the list to you with the request that you provide approval for us to process the deletions.

For your information, the list of requested deletions and criteria falls into the following categories:

Legal Privilege: 10,234
Privacy: 10,328
Both Legal and Privacy: 4,640
Homeland Security: 5
Both Homeland Security and Privacy: 1
Potential Privacy [not sure what this means]: 1

You should note that there are an additional 4048 documents that DOE has identified as what they believe they previously intended to delete between June 18 and June 30, but which were never detected by our spidering software. Those items, for some reason, do not appear in this "final" list. We will pursue this with the DOE technical staff.

In the meantime, please provide your approval as soon as possible. We would like to queue these documents up tonight and use the weekend to actually perform the deletions.

Subject: Final Clawback List

Dan,

Attached is a list of accession numbers with a corresponding entry for each document identifying the nature of the privilege. This clawback list contains approximately 25K documents. The documents on this list had been designated for a claim of privilege prior to our initial certification. However, due to several technical problems, the text and images of these documents were inadvertently made available on the DOE server and provided to the NRC for crawling. The text of these documents should be clawed back from the NRC LSN index of the DOE participant server collection before the DOE index is made available to the public for searching. Other than completing the reconciliation currently underway on our previous clawback lists, this list represents the final clawbacks necessary to be addressed prior to making the DOE index available to the public.
