Nuclear Regulatory Commission

RE: PRM-73-12

I urge you to upgrade protections against terrorist attacks on nuclear facilities. The Committee to Bridge the Gap proposal would give the protection needed against air attacks. The proposed shields would prevent massive radioactive releases in the event of an attack and save countless lives. It is also important to upgrade the design basis threat regulations. After September 11 we now know the threat of harm to our country against attackers is great and we must do all we can to protect the lives of Americans. The current regulations to require protection against only three attackers on foot, with only weapons no greater than hand carried automatic weapons might have worked before September 11, but we know that terrorist can and will work in larger groups and do whatever it takes to harm America. We are a country at war and need this protection.
