Docket No. 72-22-ISFSI

ORDER

On March 7, 2005, the State of Utah filed an "Enlargement of Time" motion that, in effect, would toll the time for seeking Commission review of two recent Licensing Board decisions - - one on "Utah's Recently-Filed Contention UU" (LBP-05-05) and one on "Aircraft Accident Consequences" (unpublished). The Board issued both decisions on February 24, 2005. Utah's "Enlargement" motion, if granted, would postpone the deadline to file a petition for review challenging both decisions until fifteen days after the Board acts on Utah's just-filed motion to reconsider the Board's "Aircraft Accident Consequences" decision.

Pursuant to my authority under 10 C.F.R. § 2.772(b),¹ I grant Utah's motion in part and deny it in part. Petitions for review of the Board's "Aircraft Accident Consequences" decision, as modified or further explained in the Board's upcoming decision on Utah's reconsideration motion, will be due fifteen days after service of the Board's reconsideration decision. Any such petition, and any response to a petition, shall not exceed twenty pages. But any petition for review of the Board's "Contention UU" decision should be filed by the current deadline, March 16, 2005. Any such petition (and response) shall not exceed 15 pages.

The page limits specified in today's Order supersede those set out in my Order of February 28, 2005. My February 28 Order also established a deadline, March 14, 2005, for ¹This order refers to the rule designation in our former Part 2, which now has been substantially revised and renumbered. See Final Rule: Changes to Adjudicatory Process, 69 Fed. Reg. 2182 (Jan. 14, 2004). The former Part 2 applies to this proceeding.

comments on whether the Commission should direct issuance of an immediately effective license. That deadline remains in effect.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
